ANSWER THIS QUESTION OUT LOUD:

"Why pay out good money for common, undesirable, unknown furniture when you can get the best known, best made brands without additional cost?"

We wish to impress the fact upon your mind that the makers of the best known brands of furniture in America have chosen the Aaron store as their sole representative in this part of the country. Yet this exclusiveness does not add a cent to the price you pay for the goods in question.

You know us of old. You know we have revolutionized the retail furniture trade in Western Pennsylvania. You know we are the ones who compelled the marking of ALL prices in PLAIN FIGURES. You know we have built up a big business from an extremely modest beginning.

Misrepresenting did not do this. Advertising did not do this. The sole cause of our wonderful growth is Value Giving, courteous treatment of the public, a real and sincere desire to be of such benefit to you as to make you need us. Let these thoughts sink in. Think of them when ready to buy furniture!

SUNDAY WORK IN THE POSTOFFICE.

The Postoffice Department has anticipated the Connelville movement looking toward the closing of the local postoffice on Sunday.

The order of the Postoffice Department is in line with a general policy adopted in deference to the sentiment that on Sunday postoffices should not be open longer than necessary, nor postal clerks and carriers be obliged to work any more than is needed for the reasonable accommodation of the public and the proper conduct of the service.

The Connelville postoffice, like the postoffices of most cities, is a mill which must grind a certain amount of great each day in order to avoid the certainty of the mill clogging and choking to such an extent as to impede its movements. If not actually stop its operations. For example, the amount of mail matter arriving here Saturday evening and Sunday morning, if allowed to remain unopened until Monday morning, when another batch of similar proportions arrives, would create a condition that would require the herculean efforts of the force for several days to straighten out. In the meantime, the service would suffer.

It is evident that a certain amount of Sunday work is necessary in the Connelville postoffice, and to the necessary work there should be no objection on the part of reasonable men.

The hot scent of Meyerdale's blood-hound detectives not frozen up in the last trail.

Washington county has nothing on Connelville in the longevity of its citizens.

The legislature has agreed to adjourn May 1st and it is estimated that it will be able to consider but a comparatively small portion of the bills which have been presented for consideration. Its time will be so much occupied with revenue and appropriation bills, and bills affecting the government of cities, that it will not have time for minor matters. This is not just to the detriment of the many meritorious bills on the calendar and in the committee, and it is the duty of the lawmakers to at least consider, and adopt or reject them.

Some kinds of fire-fighting are deplorable.

The Shour law has been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. We are surprised that any court should make any other decision. The right of private contract is guaranteed by the Constitution. The only manner in which an act of Congress can be annulled is by voting it into the Constitution.

The Baltimore & Ohio's monster Mallet locomotives can pound the track as well as pull the cars.

A Westmoreland county fire has been arrested and held for certification of a complete examination of his mine when he was examined and found to be sane. There is reason to suspect that he differs from some other fire-bombers only in the fact that he has been caught. The mine owner is to report such negligence on the part of a fire-bomber as to the destruction of a mine. As a matter of self-protection, every mine should check up the fire-bombers in the vicinity of his particular workings.

Coke production was 21,200 tons made from 2,441 active ovens out of a total of 10,120, shipments 907 cars, an increase of 100 cars over the previous week. Fretting was steadily growing at that time that the coke strike was about over.

Coke from the Steel Company of Uniontown makes an assignment. Charles A. O'Brien of Pittsburgh was receiver. The liabilities are $1,000,000.

Council is figuring on a $30,000 bond issue to pay the indebtedness of the Council run bridge, of which John Duggan had the contract, and for the paving and macadamizing of a number of streets.

Licenses court was held on Monday. There were 31 applicants for retail licenses in Fayette county. W. S. Blaney made application at Dunbar. He was refused because it was held no license was needed there.

Inaugural Rufano has fitted up the handsome barber shop in Connelville. He added a nicely appointed bathroom, an institution badly needed in the town then. The Courier states.

Engineers make the final survey of the New Haven & Lehighville railroad.

Friday, April 12, 1901.
Coke production was 24,161 tons made by 19,913 active ovens out of a total of 10,000. Shipments were 1,114 cars, a decrease of 10 cars compared with the previous week.

C. C. Wilgus and Harry Morley are what J. Q. Van Swearingen referred to in bankruptcy in Uniontown. Morley had liabilities of $10,000 and Wilgus $300 in bonds.

C. H. Miller and wife were arrested in Dunn's store for shoplifting. They were caught with $100 worth of silk on their persons.

William Nolana, Jr. of the Third Ward shot and killed his father-in-law, John Getchell at his home in Connelville township.

The Connelville Manufacturing & Lumber Supply Company is organizing a plant to be erected on the Hoge farm in New Haven.

The company is negotiating a charter for the Green and Bridge Company is published.

NEWS OF A DAY IN SCOTSDALE.

One Family Has Two Boys With Uncle Sam's Fighters.

ONE IN ARMY; ONE IN NAVY

Grand Army Band Boys Getting Ready for Show—First Accident of Baseball Season—Keystones Preparing for Games—First Circus.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, April 11.—One family in Scottdale at least has a good sized representation in the army and navy of the United States, two sons being with Uncle Sam. Mr. and Mrs. James W. Coffman have one son, Warden Coffman, with the regular army and stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, down where the interesting things may happen within the coming few months, and another son, Maurice Coffman, who is in the Naval Training School at Annapolis. The former boy enlisted some time ago, but the second one only lately.

The Grand Army Band boys are busy every night now, with the preparations for the coming minstrel show which they will produce in the Goyer opera house on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. There are all sorts of noises to be heard about the Borough building, where the band has the large upper room, and where they are putting in diligent moments getting ready for their second stage appearance.

The first accident of the blonzing baseball season in Scottdale, so far as reported, occurred yesterday afternoon, when T. A. McClain was doing some ground and lofty baseball passing out in front of the brick office. He was reaching down for a ground ball, and struck his right forefinger on the paving, which coupled with the momentum of the ball, was successful in putting the genial Mr. McClain from some flesh and blood. The wound will cause the wearing of a tramping of court plaster to appear on his finger, and will impede the baseball business somewhat.

Circus is Coming.
Announced by the lady and abiding lithographs that are in the stage of spring prophecy the Hovey Circus is advertised to be present in Scottdale on Thursday, May 20. This is a Western Pennsylvania show that winters near Pittsburgh and is well known among the tented amusement.

Baseball Dates.
J. B. Brooks, manager of the Keystones of Scottdale has picked up some dates for his team, which had a lively practice yesterday evening here. The season will be opened with the East Huntingdon High School team at Alverton on Saturday afternoon next. The Alverton team will be leaving Saturday. The Keystones will play Mr. Braddock the following Saturday.

No White Wing.
The absence of the White Wing from the streets Monday, allowed the paved ones to fall back into the class in which they were before they were so nicely washed off on Saturday. The White Wing will jolly well earn his salary by being out every day.

Medicos to Banquet.
The annual banquet of the Westmoreland County Medical Society will be held in Greensburg at the New Lyall hotel on Tuesday, May 2. Scottdale will send a large delegation of two of the officers, live men, among them Second Vice President C. W. McKee and Secretary J. P. Strickler.

DOCTOR PRAISES D. D. D.

Although an M. D., I acknowledge to my patients and patients that your remedy, D. D. D., reaches cause of Eczema and, permanently, cures them.—Dr. Ira T. Gabbert, Caldwell, Kan.

"My cure began from the first application of D. D. D. My skin is now as smooth as a baby's. I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for what D. D. D. has done for me," writes August Sinto, of Chillicothe, Ohio.

"These are just samples of letters we are receiving every day from grateful patients all over the country."

"Worth its weight in gold." "All my pimples washed away by D. D. D." "I found instant relief." "D. D. D. is little short of miraculous." These are the words of others in describing the great skin remedy, D. D. D.

Proven by thousands of cures, ten years to be absolutely harmless and reliable in every case of skin trouble, no matter what it is.

Get a trial bottle today! Instant relief—only 25c.

PILATE TONIGHT

In Painting and Song at the First Baptist Church.

No character holds such a prominent and unmovable place in the trial of Christ as does Pilate. His relation to the Passion of Our Lord will be followed in painting and song at the Baptist Church tonight, Tuesday evening, from 7.15 to 8.45.

This is in the series of Lenten Meditations in company with the great artists. Admission free; silver offering received.

Brakemen Caught Robbing Freight Cars

Following repeated robbery of freight cars in the Glenwood yards of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad police officials yesterday arrested Thomas W. Mahoney, aged 36, of Hazelwood, and James Stewart, aged 25, of Glenwood. The men were taken into custody while in a freight car from which they are alleged to have thrown several cases of eggs and were in the act of getting more when held up at the point of revolvers and placed in custody.

The arrest caused a sensation. It is intimated that other arrests will follow. Capt. Thomas Delahanty of the railroad police detailed Robert C. Woodcock and William Fowler to go to the Glenwood yards and stay there until they cleared up the mystery. This was on March 1. The officers remained in the yards every night hidden on trucks under freight cars. In the meantime five robberies were reported.

Mr. PLIN SANTAPPE, April 1st—David Bennett, an old and respected citizen of Parktown, died at the county home here, and funeral services will be held from the Church of God with Interment in the cemetery at 10 o'clock.

Bennett was one of the men pensioned by the Frick Company and was taken to the county home here about a year ago on his mind. He was aged seventy-eight and is survived by a widow and one son.

Mr. Overhill has returned home from Florida.

A great need for more police was recently felt last Saturday night when Chief of Police Keller and Patrolman O'Neil were on duty. At about 11 o'clock a line agent to arrest the innkeeper and see that it had been more police called for. It was Chief Keller ordered the men and got one woman and Ong. The woman was a woman who was leaving by way of the back yard. When the officer saw the woman he saw her and she turned off and the innkeeper made exit through all the different windows and doors and the officer saw her and she was sneaking in all directions. The woman

The hearing held before council at 10 o'clock, evening, on the case of Joseph A. Kiehrer against William C. O'Neil, policeman, was behind closed doors. The witnesses in the case being called were those who then lived in the room as heard. The prosecutor drank up to prove that the policeman drank while on duty and that he had used force in calling down some young fellows who were coming home from the university late one night and as they came in they were drunk. The witnesses in the case were heard and council held their meeting over until midnight night. Last night a meeting was held in the hall and the defendant was charged down of gully for O'Neil, the price league winner.

THE CASH

GEORGE RANDOLPH CHESTER

CHAPTER IV.

I DON'T see where that could amount to a billion of actual currency," remonstrated Ralph Eldridge.

"Not?" replied Kelvin. "I will show you."

Breed quietly issued from his central organization, the United Food Company of New Jersey, a general order that all bread and cereal foodstuffs must be sold for spot cash only. The receipts from these sales were not to be deposited in banks, but for immediate use in the general offices of his company. Do you know what this meant? Breed began an obscure miller. He formed combination after combination of flouring mills until, twenty years after he started that task, he practically owned every grainmill and every grain elevator in the United States, accomplishing that through an elaborate system of rebating on wheat and flour shipments. Every farmer who raised wheat raised it to sell to Henry Breed at prices set by Breed, for there was no other buyer. His next step was to establish the immense bakery system which now bears his name. Flour was not at such a price that families could not afford to buy it, and that opposing bakeries were forced out of business. Now in all the centers of population he has his immense mechanical bread furnaces, from which his bread trains rush before daylight to distribution stations in all the small towns, while his remarkable automobile service supplies the cities. By concentration of manufacture he claims to have been able to produce a better grade of bread at a lower price than was ever known before and making more profit on it than individual bakeries ever did.

"Breed pays everything by check, by post-dating some of his immense stockholdings and thus turning them into cash. He supplies nearly 60,000,000 people with every ounce of bread they eat, with every spoonful of cereal food upon every breakfast table in the United States, with every particle of pastry served in this broad land of ours. Think for one moment! Through this monopoly of all cereal foodstuffs every one of 60,000,000 people pays a tribute to him, of on the average, about 8 cents a day, which amounts daily to over $200,000,000, or in the past year to nearly a billion dollars. Actual cash, gentlemen, nearly a billion of actual currency gone from our already limited circulation."

"One-half of them had out their pencils and were figuring upon the backs of cards and envelopes.

"Ninety hundred and ninety-five and a half million, to be more exact," corrected Kelvin. "We still have nearly $2,500,000,000 with which to carry on business, however."

"You are making an error when you estimate upon our approximate $3,000,000,000 of cash. You are not deducting the government cash reserves in the United States treasury and sub-treasuries. You are not deducting our $1,500,000,000 of currency practically never seen the light of day or emerging from its sealed canvas bags in the bank vaults. You are not deducting

"Breed pays everything by check, by post-dating some of his immense stockholdings and thus turning them into cash. He supplies nearly 60,000,000 people with every ounce of bread they eat, with every spoonful of cereal food upon every breakfast table in the United States, with every particle of pastry served in this broad land of ours. Think for one moment! Through this monopoly of all cereal foodstuffs every one of 60,000,000 people pays a tribute to him, of on the average, about 8 cents a day, which amounts daily to over $200,000,000, or in the past year to nearly a billion dollars. Actual cash, gentlemen, nearly a billion of actual currency gone from our already limited circulation."

INTRIGUE

COPYRIGHT 1934, by the BOBBY MERRILL CO.

conditry thing too. The strange part is that it should have remained for you alone to discover it and profit by it. How did you find it out?"

"Well, with about 10,000 distributing agents, each one instructed to result in currency only, it would be very strange if there were not a leak. Doubtless a host of people other than myself know of it, but the individual amounts were so small that no one paid any attention."

"That's precisely it," insisted Rollins. "It remained for you to appreciate and take advantage of the enormous possibilities of the thing, to understand its magnitude in the aggregate. You are a great man, Mr. Kelvin. You have been selling all the time, haven't you?"

"Every morning," admitted Phillip, smiling.

"You must have an enormous account by this time."

"Close to 700,000 shares," confessed Phillip.

"And you held back your explanation of all this until you had acquired all you wanted? I thought so. Well, it's an ill wind that blows nobody any good. I want some railroad shares, I suppose you realize what a calamity you are going to bring on the country."

"I think I do," And Phillip's jaws closed with a snap.

Rollins looked at him in slightly disapproving speculation.

"Gad!" he said. "Some of the big men here have been pirates, but you will be the most ruthless wrecker who ever got into Wall Street."

"No," returned Phillip, with a curious smile. "You have read me wrong. I am not a pirate. I am a reformer."

"I see," concluded Rollins. "In the same manner that the inquisition reformed the heretics."

"I decline to be interviewed," declared Phillip. "Are you going uptown?"

At the Esplanade Kelvin found Rensselaer. "You are the only chap on my list who knows a lot of the newspaper crowd. I have an item for them, and I don't want to give it out myself."

He told Rensselaer what had transpired at the dinner. Rensselaer clasped him on the back and laughed loud and long.

"The newspapers will eat that story!" he declared. "It's a wonderful thing! Great Scott, man, how many shares are you short?"

"About 700,000."

"Then every point drop means $700,000 to you. This will send the line down thirty points. Let me secure a minute. Why, that's $21,000,000!"

"I figure on a little bit more than that," returned Kelvin dryly. "But don't let that distress you any, Bert."

"You might have given a fellow a tip," complained Rensselaer.

"How much money have you?"

"A little over $2,000 of my own," replied Rensselaer. "But I can get hold of $10,000 more."

"Do you know any way that you can place your $12,000 on the London market in the morning?"

"I think I can. No far it!" said Rensselaer, jumping up. "Watch me make the sidewalk smoke. And just to think," he said, "that all this glittering opportunity comes about through old Henry Breed! Why, I have an aunt out at Forest Lakes, a guest of Breed's, who calls herself, but she's a guest for pay and in a sort of bear leader for the fair Lillian. She would be above taking money for coaching Lillian and afterward in directing her into society, but who's not above letting Breed handle her investments of a paltry $10,000 on a guaranteed return of 100 per cent."

"If you want to get those selling orders away you had better hurry," suggested Kelvin, looking at his watch. "I have an idea that the cables will be loaded with just such messages before morning."

Shortly after midnight Kelvin was awakened by the ringing of his telephone bell, and from then on until morning he was kept busy answering calls from the various newspaper editors.

He gave them all the information he could. They beseeched him for news, for photographs, for the story of his life, and in the morning, having given out all the information he had at hand, he was compelled to go to another hotel incapable to escape the reporters. He had brought to him all the morning papers and read with smiles the mass of naive exaggerations. He was the shrewdest man that had ever come into Wall Street. He was a combination of all the great financiers in America, from Vanderbilt to Harriman. He had sold short anywhere from 1,000,000 to 10,000,000 shares of stock. His age ranged from sixteen to sixty, his complexion from blond to brunette and his character from a hummingbird to a vampire. About only two things were there no disagreement—he had conducted his business with a consummate wit and money, and Henry Breed, whose greed had made this possible, was the most profound scoundrel of the century!

While he was still reading these accounts the Stock Exchange opened, and it opened with a crash, with practically every order on the floor wanting to sell and few wanting to buy. Within five minutes of the opening the place was a pandemonium, and he had to be a Hercules who held buying orders. The peculiar part of the movement was that it started simultaneously in nearly every trading group upon the floor. Men with orders to sell 5,000 shares of U. P. would no sooner execute that commission than they would plunge into the Steel Common group with equal frenzy. Men with orders to wait for a price followed in sheer nervousness. It was a roaring, shrieking, cursing hell, in which clothing was rent and men fought like ferocious dogs for a mere glance from a man who had buying orders.

By 3 o'clock every security listed on the Stock Exchange had dropped twenty points a share. Many of them had gone still lower. That afternoon the private dining rooms of all the exclusive cafes were filled with grave men, certain groups planning to go with the movement and others, more far seeing, devising ways and means to stem the oncoming tide.

Pellman took a train to Forest Lakes, the country home of Henry Breed. The six biggest railroad operators in the street had decided that if any man could influence Breed Pellman was the man. Pellman himself was dubious. He, for that matter, Breed had engaged in some quarrel or other with every man in the market.

Pellman approached Forest Lakes with a confidence that diminished as he came in sight of Breed's immense estate.

At the great iron gates a grizzled old woodsman with a gun took Pellman's card through the grill and, stepping inside a small lodge, telephoned to the house. He came out again in a few moments.

"Mr. Breed is ill," he said. "The doctor has forbidden him to see any one."

"Is the doctor in the house?" asked Pellman.

"Yes, sir."

TOMORROW SERIES OPENS IN PITTSBURG.

McKeesport and De Neri Will Clash in Duquesne Garden; Also Friday.

CHANGE MADE IN THE GAME

Big Game Will Be Under Way by 8:30 or 8:45, Giving Connellsville
Fans Chance to Catch No. 10.
Seats for 4,000.

The first game in Pittsburgh of the world series between McKeesport and De Neri will be played tomorrow night at Duquesne Garden. Arrangements have been made for the accommodation of 4,000 fans. Up to noon yesterday, when the seats were put on sale, 400 McKeesport fans had ac-cured reservations.

It was originally announced that the preliminary game to the big show would not start until 8 o'clock, but,
largely through the efforts of Connellsville fans who wrote those interested in the arrangements, it has been decided to start it at 7:15 and cut the second half to 15 minutes.

Under these circumstances it should be possible to see the big game
and make No. 10 coming out this morning night although fans making this trip might have to leave the hall before the close of the first half. Unless De Neri takes a big brace, however, the outcome of the contest will have been settled before the second half has progressed very far.

Legislature to Quit May 25th

Special to The Courier.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 11.—The Legislature last night fixed May 25 as the date of final adjournment. Both houses adopted the resolution without a dissenting vote. Preparations were at once made for more speed in the House and that body will hold three sessions on Wednesday and two each on Tuesday and Thursday.

Now that the date is selected, Chairman James P. Woodward will prepare the appropriation bills for presentation to the House. He says that more effort than usual is being made to keep the appropriations bill in the revenues. He will time the report of the measures so that they can be passed at the close of the session and the governor will have 30 days to consider them.

FIRE BOSS ARRESTED.

For Failure to Properly Inspect Westmoreland Coal Mine.

Charged with failure to make proper inspection of the mine in his charge before certifying that it was in fit condition, thereby endangering the life of every man who went to work on the strength of his report, William Strouder, fire boss at the Cretaceous mine, at Millon, Westmoreland county, was arrested yesterday by Constable Harry Hartert. The complaint was filed by Mine Inspector McGregor. Strouder was taken to the jail to await a hearing next Wednesday at 10 A. M.

Strouder is alleged to have made
only partial inspection of the mine, on the strength of which he made out reports in full. His failure to make his mark in some of the rooms when he missed, it is said, led to the filing of the complaint.

TOM JOHNSON DIES.

Twice Congressman and Four Times
Mayor of Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., April 11.—(Special)—Tom L. Johnson, aged 57 twice Congressman from the Twenty-first Ohio District, four times Mayor of Cleveland, champion of Scout street railway fare, and prominent advocate of the single tax theories of the late Henry George, died in his apartment
in the White Hall, East One Hundred and Seventh street at 5:45 o'clock, last night, after a lengthy illness. Death was caused by cirrhosis of the liver.
He was cheerful and optimistic to the end.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW

Is Declared Unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court.

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—(Special)—The Pennsylvania eight-hour law was yesterday declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court.
The court reversed the decision of the Allegheny and State Superior courts, and from from Habbity John Z. Casper, a Pittsburgh contractor who built the Pittsburgh filtration plant and was convicted of violating the law.

Great Gas Well Drilled in,
MORGANTOWN, W. Va., April 11.
—(Special)—The Mississippi Glass Company of Morgantown brought in a gas well of 2,000,000 feet pressure on Sunday on its lease near Slades-ville. It was the first well drilled by the company, which will use the output in its glass factory here.

"Eight" or "Waltham" do in the watch
business.

SUCH A STARTLING ANNOUNCE-MENT no doubt makes you ask if it is absolutely bonafide and if so why I do it. The whole story is this. I have decided to make this unheard of sacrifice of regular $3.50 and $5.00
gold filled glasses at $1.00 for balance of week to gain the full support and patronage of Connellsville people and thus build up an extensive optical business. The lenses are the same I sell in my regular lines, every one fully guaranteed, and I use just as much care in fitting your eyes. Difficult cases a specialty.

Headaches and nervousness and other troubles far remote from the eye are oftentimes the direct result of an eye strain which if corrected with the proper glasses would give immediate relief. It is not necessary for the eye to be sore to indicate the need of glasses. In many cases the eye may be perfectly healthy and glasses may be needed for the reasons which are only apparent to the physician and skilled eye specialist.

EXAMINATION FREE

During this wonderful sale I will be in charge and every patient will get a scientific examination and glasses properly adjusted. REMEMBER I am making this sale to build up my business and cannot afford to exaggerate.
Special prices during sale on specially ground lenses and bifocals.
For balance of week only "Stevens"
S. Q. Gold filled Bifocal Mountings—every pair guaranteed by the makers—fitted with our own lenses—including examination, $1.00.
All "Stevens" frames and mountings are stamped on the bridge—
"Stevens S. Q."—look for it—don't take my word. They are sold filled—not gold plated—permanently guaranteed by Stevens & Co. (Inc.) of Philadelphia, Pa. and myself—and will be replaced at any time if they fail to give satisfaction.

Get 20 Per Cent. More Shoe Value

The Footwear for you! SEE THE NEW SHAPES—OBSERVE THE FINISH—FEEL OF THE MATERIAL. "NEVER SO FINE FOR THE MONEY," YOU'LL SAY.

We Pay for Cost of Production Only

Others must pay the cost of production, cost of advertising and cost of other incidental expenses. Our footwear is made practically our own factory from which our season's needs are shipped after personal selection is made.

For the price you pay—and our prices are no higher than for shoes elsewhere—you are getting the worth, plus the small profit due us, in actual leather, workmanship and service. You are not paying a portion of outside expense nor advertising cost.

Besides Styles and Leathers

We Show all Sizes and Widths.

Note this important feature—Oxfords are cut higher—four and five eyelet fastening—warranting perfect fit and no rubbing at the heels.

High arches, toes and heels in Oxfords and Shoes for men and women will give certain shape,
looks and comfort satisfaction.

Most Remarkable Silk Sale Ever

Over 900 Yards 35 inch Black Silk 20c to 40c Under Price.

We had been doing the silk business so well that we thought the best things to be had were shown here until this consignment of black silks came to our notice. Quality and price—the lot is the best that ever came to this store. The more critical you are, the more appreciative you'll be. We think we can convince the most skeptical persons who will give the goods and prices a chance, that on silks—these black silks, in particular—buyers will do better here than ever before.

Black Silks are Very Stylish

Ordinarily it would appear incredible that black would ever come greatly into vogue for young people's wear,
but the unexpected has happened.
There is not one idea as evident as black silk coats and suits for children,
right now.

Nor is it confined there but, beginning with the smallest child the fashion extends to girls, misses and mature women.

Displayed in dry goods section—Special priced black silks and trimmings to go with them and other silks. Special priced colored silks. New Ornaments and Allovers. New Net Bands, etc., etc.

Replenished Stocks of Silks and Trimmings

Without doubt the most magnificent assemblage of dress materials and accessories for the biggest silk season and season of rare trimmings. Nothing to equal the exhibit outside the large city stores, miles from here. Some of the silks are direct from the importers and are of designs wholly new and just brought out. The prices are considerably less than when buying through jobbers.

The same may be said regarding many of the new Beaded Trimmings—the effects in gold, silver, turquoise and coral.

Eddy Family With Howe's Big Shows

There are many novel acts with the Great London Shows which are certain to be well received in every city lucky enough to secure a visit from the consolidated enterprises. There are acts which were never seen in America until this show opened its season of 1911, for the reason that there was no amusement enterprise

great enough to afford the large salaries which the artists demand and no institution with sufficient prestige to attract the attention of such celebrated performers.
The Eddy family of acrobats to insure, perform feats which have never been seen in other shows.
The Great London Circus will exhibit in Connellsville on Wednesday, April 19.
